

Colin Brown

C.E.T., MBA

MANAGING DIRECTOR:
Management Consultant & Business Advisor

Professional Expertise

Colin is a strategic advisor with deep expertise and hands-on experience in areas critical to business growth and continuity, including family business planning, strategic planning, digital transformation, process improvement, succession and exit planning, accounting and finance. He has worked with a wide range of clients – from small and mid-sized family businesses to large publicly traded global companies – across industries such as construction, engineering, food and agriculture, industrial services and manufacturing.

Before co-founding McNally Brown Group with partner Laura McNally, Colin held senior leadership roles in Engineering, Operations, and Sales, where he led change and technology implementation initiatives at both a North American heavy civil construction company and global construction and materials firms.

Colin's unique experience in both family-owned and multinational organizations gives him a well-rounded perspective on the strategic challenges businesses face. His approach is grounded in collaboration, clear communication, and practical execution. He specializes in designing tailored solutions and leading complex, multi-stakeholder projects that deliver real, lasting results.

Professional Experience

Colin received his Executive MBA and Innovating for Digital Transformation Certification from the Richard Ivey School of Business, Architectural Technologist Diploma from Mohawk College and is a Certified Engineering Technician (C.E.T.).
